For my new years eve I went to my Sister she's not really my sister she's just a girl who's an extremely good friend of mine so we're sisters, yeah I call myself a girl in this whole sister thing but hey, who're you to judge?!) My gf and another mate also went, we, no, I got drunk and went on my sisters brothers (that doesn't make him my brother, I think he's wierd) xbox 360 and went onto xbox live ranting at people online whilst being constantly killed.

Then we went to the market place for the countdown and I drunkenly hugged everyone I could, even some enemies! Unfortunately I hugged my gf then another drunk mate came and hugged us, pushed my and my gf together and she accidently headbutted my fake tooth out... how many times does it have to come out!!!

boring unessesesesesarilliy long post over

Pretty hungover, I was this morning.

Woke up to my phone vibrating on a wooden shelf across the room (hell when you're hungover) and I had to get out of bed asap and run over to it, then when i got there it stopped :upset

Hahaha yeah!

I still feel sick, and its already 6 at night!

I'd rather have a headache than a stomache.
