
My iPod can read my mind

Posted by PistolPete - 2007/01/23 10:46

First of all, this morning I had my iTunes up on my computer (I always have it on random, and there is 1610 songs on it). I had some extra time, so I grabbed my guitar and was playing "Israel's Son" by Silverchair, only because I like the opening riff. I haven't heard the song in a while, and after I quit playing, the song came on my iTunes. A few minutes later I was on spfc looking at the lyrics for "Tear," and magically it was the next song that came on. Then while I was in the shower, I had that new Deftones song stuck in my head, and when I got out it was playing on my iTunes!?!?!?

Has this happened to anyone else?
