cashcarstar - i grew up near chicago. . and came out to DC for work after college.

PopTart - you may be opening yourself up to alot of comments about Idaho :p When I first came out to DC, I got so much flack for being from IL - to East Coasters, IL is considered to be like all farmtown hicks!

Of interest - I did live in Russia for a year :heart

Wow that's so cool - you live on a boat like Sonny Crocket (Miami Vice)
I used to record in Teaneck NJ which I think is pretty close to where you are.

Trite music. All band is following the western shit, no unique sound, everything is copied.
And mostly shit, pop music, like scooter ...etc. In addition, the most popular music is the gipsy music...Ok, there are some exception but generally the whole scene is just pathetic...

Where's everyone from?

Posted by cherry - 2006/12/06 11:14

This thread has probably already been made but...Oh well. Based on the 'Snow in New Jersey' thread, I realized there's a lot of diversity on this forum. I was wondering where everyone is from AND if there is any place they'd rather live?

I'm form Ponoka, Alberta, Canada but I'd rather live in Hungary; It's the mother land!!!!

I live in the 'Couve, the Hairy Green Toe of Portland OR, across the river in Washington. Basically, how it works is we go and spend most of our time hanging out in Portland, which has all the fun places of a big city, then come back to our town in a different state where more things (bigger fireworks, bestiality, etc.) are legal no, but you have to watch <http://profile.myspace.com/index.cfm?fuseaction=user.viewprofile&friendID=126497445>

the pumpkin queen isn't working with the pumpkins anymore, but the region pages are doing their own thing. talk to whoever runs that page about an aussie meetup, I need to get one going for omaha soon, as I run the page for my region.
