it's a little rough (it was a quick job) but it should cover most of the song. i didn't have hours to spend on it like i did tarantula. luckily there were no guitar solos. let me know what you think.

Does anyone else think that Billy is getting lazier and lazier with his guitar playing? If he really is playing like this tab (good job by the way Obscured) than it looks like he is.

You have heard them live in this tour, right? There is nothing lazy about his guitar playing It's 30 song sets night after night, with songs like Gossamer and Silverfuck thrown in.
