Has bring the light been played live at any of the shows this year?
If so does anyone have a link to the boot of the show?

It has not been played. Remember, if you need to know if a song has been played, you can check here:

I think they're saving songs like Bring the Light, Pomp and then your Everlasting Gaze and Ava Adore for the later US shows.

Read a rumour yesterday that the Pumpkins will be playing at the BDO. Which would mean I'de get to see them twice. Which would be awesome. Please, oh please.

hell, it better be 2008! Every week that passes without an australian tour announced, I get a little more anxious that they might not come here. I saw billy on his TFE tour, and that was the closest I've been to any of them (I must have been within 50 meters! of BC! sigh) so even though the BDO is not the best place to enjoy a band, I'll go.

I saw Tool at the Sydney Myer Music Bowl, passed on the BDO, and as a result didn't get to see them play The Pot. I don't regret it, but I wouldn't want something like that to happen with The Pumpkins.

as long as they work the song into the setlist by the middle of next month, it will all be good.

I dont care about anything else except getting to see them, if they dont come to australia i might just kill myself.
