haha thats pretty sweet. I don't know if I'd spring the money for it since the game already costs a 100 bucks for Xbox 360.

I hate the fact that they're doing stuff like this. I really wish they'd stick to music and not trying to do all this marketing stuff. That's all I have to say.

this is the first guitar hero where I've actually been pleased with some of the songs, and not just Cherub Rock

I wish Guitar hero wasn't so expensive. 80-100 bucks? That's crazy.

That would be cool to play cherub rock on guitar hero.

What Sonic Youth & Muse songs? Does sound like the best band's so far in the series. They've got all of my favourites.

The Metal by Tenacious D

Thats an awesome song.

They still need Nirvana but I guess most of there songs would work well with Guitar Hero. However, I don't you what the games called, but when I was at best buy (Blowing my money on the new Zeitgeist and checking out that Guitar Hero faceplate thing) I saw the coolest game. It's like guitar hero only with drums. I dont know if it's called Drum Hero or what but it's so cool. And they had In Bloom by Nirvana which has some pretty awesome drum riffs in it.

But anyway, I'd like to see the Cure in guitar hero.
Hahaha, ya, I know, not gonna happen not as bad as you might think the 360 bundle is like $160 bucks..has 1 guitar, 1 mic, 1 drum set and the game

think my brother and I might chip in for it
