
How does this lick sound?

Posted by HeavyMetalMachine - 2008/01/16 20:58

I've sorta been messing around with this lick I made up. I'm trying to get a band together and I guess you can call it a little demo.

It was recorded quick so it's kind of "bassy".

Anyway, anything I should add?

thanks.

yeah the whole thing needs drums.

I just don't have any at my house. so it's kindof hard to record the drums.

you play bass too? i play my friend's bass when ever i go to his house, i am better than he is without lessons, haha--he is not very talented i dont think, he has no inspiration anyways, pretty cool track, especially near the end. you should make friends with someone who plays the drums, or if you really want i could get one of my friends to record a track for you.

yeah dont worry i know how you feel i play guitar too and its a lil hard to get a drum beat down when you dont have drums at your own house.

Haha, I know someone exactly like that. he got a bass. and I was all excited. I went to his house one day and he was very mesy. A few days after he got his bass my little sister got hers, and in about a week, my sister was twice as good as my friend.

Thanks for the offer, but that would probably be too complicated.

I have a friend who is amazing at drums.

I was jamming with him about a month ago and we sounded good together. However, last week I talked to him about starting up a band and it seemed like he lost all passion for the drums and didn't want to at all. Hopefully I'll convince him eventually.

Yeah, it's a bummer. my brother plays snare for his 5th grade school band. I think he plans on getting a drum set which would be nice. However, I don't think he has the passion and he can't really keep a beat. I guess he's only in 5th grade right now so he's still learning, but hopefully he'll get good.

download the trial version of acoustica beatcraft really simple, nice drum machine. I use it for my demos.

I downloaded it. It's pretty cool.

But what happens after seven days when the free trial ends?

Will I not be able to use it?

Wow, it has that X-Quality:D !!!

Seriously, it's very well, reminds me of Black Sabbath, somehow!
