
Ghosts I-IV (the new NIN album(s))

Posted by spaceboy90 - 2008/03/03 22:34

ok, well, I didn't see it here, and somebody's gotta start the thread. So what do you guys think of the new Nine Inch Nails album? I personally love it. I dig that it's really experimental in terms of the music itself and the distribution. I hope now that the pumpkins apparently aren't on a label anymore that they release their new stuff in a similar way... even though billy is just stubborn enough to not follow reznor's lead just outta spite. :monocle

I'm only on 18 Ghosts II so far, but I'm absolutely LOVING it. A fantastic new direction for Trent's music. I wish Billy WOULD follow Trent's lead in the distribution, new musical ideas, etc., but as you said...he likely won't.

P.S. While I do love the album...I must admit that I miss Trent's voice on it.

I haven't got to listen to it yet. I bought the complete album for $5 and I'm still trying to download the FLAC files...it's taking forever!

haha, I can't believe nobody's posting on this thread. lots reznor hate going around in pumpkinland I suppose. but I've listened to the whole album about 3 times over. it's really great. It's kind of like an experiment in synesthesia.

I wasn't too excited about an instrumental album, but I do love NIN. The concept is really cool and the physical package is amazing. I listened to a few tracks on youtube and it reminds me of the Fragile...which I love. I'll come back to this thread after I finish downloading it.

Perfect description.

Apparently the tracks not having names will "make more sense" next week....:D Exciting goings on in NINland...

Trent never fails to amuse...this album just came out of nowhere, didn't it? That's one thing Billy should do - pop the next album on us, completely out of the blue. Wouldn't give the nay-sayers the time to hate it before it was even released, like they did with Zeitgeist.

This is something I intend to purchase. I can get the first 9 tracks for free, however.

"Wooooo Nine Inch Nails! They're good!" (anybody who knows about that line, kudos)

I can't wait till it comes out in it's physical form. For those of you that want to sample the album, you can get the first volume from nin.com for free.

In its first week Ghosts had 800,000 transactions resulting in $1.6 million for Trent.

Trent wants the fans to get involved as well.

i'm not extremely interested in NIN, but I read on ultimate guitar that it shifted 800,000 units this quickly, so I'm going to see what all the fuss is about.

BAA.
