
Easter

Posted by HeavyMetalMachine - 2008/03/22 13:37

Anyone doing anything interesting for Easter?

I go to an Eater Vigil from 11 tonight to 5 tomorrow morning.
I'm gonna be tired as hell.

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by Geek N.Z. - 2008/03/22 19:56

Aw, just went to a Pumpkins concert, nothing big, really...

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by Angel_Devoured - 2008/03/22 20:32

Ditto

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by Rivers Cuomo - 2008/03/22 21:12

Church, then family over for some food.

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by PistolPete - 2008/03/22 21:24

^^what he said

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by Alienbob - 2008/03/22 22:03

http://www.exhibitoronline.com/exhibitor magazine/images/may_2005/ideasthatwork/peep_medium.jpg
Peeps. Fluffy, yellow Peeps.

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by Trillian - 2008/03/23 12:23

I'll tell you what I SHOULD HAVE done earlier today: gym, laundry ...

But I've been a lazy butt and need to get ready to go to my relatives' for dinner. (I'm so not religious, but I'm not into candy either, so Easter isn't much of a priority to me.)

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by Geek N.Z. - 2008/03/23 16:08

Apparently, my mum told me that my nana didn't do ANY work on Sunday. Didn't lift a finger.

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by HeavyMetalMachine - 2008/03/23 17:02

huh, so nothing interesting I take it?
Maybe it's just my family?

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by PersianBellyDancer - 2008/03/23 21:08

Everywhere was closed today, it sucked. The only place we could crash at was a Barnes and Noble in the suburbs.
Most used phrase of the day, "What do you mean Target's closed?"

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by dougydarkangel - 2008/03/23 22:25

Yeah, i had to play drums at church on sunday after NO sleep for two straight nights and a major hang over, wasnt my proudest moment haha

=====

Re:Easter

Posted by doomsdayclock - 2008/03/26 08:10

didn't do much either. good family dinner and that's about it.

=====