
Never Before Seen Rhinoceros Video

Posted by EasternMind - 2008/04/20 10:34

Here is a link to a video that has never been surfaced until recently. This version of Rhinoceros seems to be a different version than either the Reel Time Sessions one, or the Gish album version.

Found a link on ozphoria.com

It's not my video, but someone elses. I'm hoping that they'll upload it to a better video site soon, and so I made a suggestion to do so. I guess we'll see!

I'm with ya, Pete. That whole thing just screams "I'm a film student!" What exactly was the concept? She decided to hang out in the snow at a playground then realized she was late for the pumpkins show so she took of running to get there before the song was over? :confused

Maybe i'm reading some of these posts wrong but it seems like some people are thinking it was an unreleased video. The guy just made it for a project in college. But once again maybe I'm not reading the posts right.

But yeah, sounds pretty cool. It must've been a version released to chicago locals way back when to promote the band.

There's really nothing new here. This video has circulated before in certain trading circles. I believe it IS the RTS version, just without the organ solo. As far as I can tell, it has no affiliation with the band, and is just some school project for Spielberg wannabes...one who went to school with Iha.

So, yawn* is right

Oh and this guy described this video back in 2004.

"I made this video in college back in 1989. The Pumpkins didn't have a record out yet. We filmed them in Chicago."

Would that not lead you to believe that he was friends of the band?

He's probably lying, and pretended to have made it then, pretending it was even him who made it...

Why would he lie? If I personally knew the pumpkins I wouldn't keep it a secret.

I bet he went to one of there gigs and got some free music or something.

No, I mean the person who posted it on YouTube.

It just seems so bullshit!

Hey, I was right.

I asked him how he got it and this is what he said:

The band gave us a cassette of their album before it was released. When the album was released it sounded different. I never liked the album version as much as the songs on the cassette.
