
The Marked Demo Tapes

Posted by DON - 2007/12/11 09:33

I used to stumble over The Marked some years ago while checking out RSPAA. I like the band a lot and I've downloaded the songs there, but it seems as if the lists would be incomplete at all and I've heard about some other Demo Tapes which can't be found there.

On spfc.org there are also songs listed I've never heard before.

Does someone have this songs or know where I can get them?

Here's the link to the RSPAA marked-section:

And here to the list off spfc.org:

I think there might be a few tapes on the Zomb if you're into lossless. I'm not sure if they're the same or not.

I have some files of the Marked... I believe I have 4 complete demos, but have no information on them besides track names. I emailed the administrator to see if I can post them on this site. If not, I can email them to you, or snail mail you a data CDR with the files if you like.

I just began getting into The Marked yesterday, with the idea that in a way there are a bunch of Billy solo songs that I've never heard.

However, in my opinion, the other songs not sung by Billy just sound terrible! His voice is so... Unfitting and unrefined.

I was wondering if anyone knows where the Pumpkins song "Hope" shows up on any Marked Demo Tapes? It's certainly not on any of the ones on the RSPAA.
