Notes

Main menu & chapter menu. Some "buffer errors" during the show are the cause for lost footage. i have faded in and out when this happens. Thirty-Three is pretty shaky.. I was getting pretty tired of being a human tri-pod. A minor audio error is presents during 1 song on disc 1 error is from the original audio recording not the encoding process. The Audio was recored from the balcony next to my camera.

Some Highlight: Billy does a lot of banter most of which are very funny. First appearance of Death From Above. Only appearance of Promise Me. Last (as of date) appearance of 7 Shades of Black & Translucent. Jimmy loses his right drum stick towards the end of Doomsday Clock, and more!

A HD 1080i BLU-RAY version currently not available for public circulation but does exist.

I don't know man, it shouldn't be that hard. What seems to be the problem?

Try adding ".ZIP" to the end of the file name, and then using WINrar. That's what I had to do.

I'm getting a friend of mine who is a lot more computer savy and has heaps more bandwidth to download and burn it for me. Shouldn't be too long. Anyone with a flair for design want to make a DVD cover for me to print out?
