Pop is a very bland term, used to discribe all modern music, including rock. Used more specifically it means what you and I think of as pop music (A genre, mostly made up of blonde bimbos who all have the same voice and no talent...)

More UFOlogists have considered the possibility that UFOs may be emanating from subterranean bases, that UFO aliens have constructed these bases to carry out various missions involving Earth or humans.

Belief in a subterranean world has been handed down as myth, tale, or rumor down the generations from all over the world. Some of these stories date back to ancient times and tell tales of fantastic flora and fauna that can be found in the caverns of ancient races. Socrates spoke of huge hollows within the Earth which are inhabited by man, and vast caverns which rivers flow.

Toronto Entrance

There is a small opening to the underground tunnels off Parliament Street in downtown Toronto. (The entrance is between two apartment buildings, and leads to the tunnels via the sewers.) The underground city (abandoned?) beneath Toronto has its center beneath Gerrard Street and Church Street. Above this area, strange magnetic effects have been observed. (Note: This corner of Gerrard & Church streets has a higher accident rate than anywhere else in Toronto. It is believed that underground equipment utilizing powerful magnetic fields (which have caused many strange magnetic effects in houses near this intersection) are responsible for the bizarre equipment failures that often are the cause of these accidents.) The Indians near Toronto have legends of these tunnels.

I like it when i get home and the lights are all on and my ex is standing on the door way saying im sorry, but i must leave to go and discover the size of various fish species in lake Burton in Tasmania. Then when i get inside i find that someone has cleaned to whole house, to my surprise i find that the culprit was the lead singer/songwriter/guitarist/french horn/cooking staff for a band that once played down the road for my cousins best freind and her dogs aunty. After such a non eventfull day i decide to cool off in the swimming pool, only to find its full of seaweed, but how does seaweed get in a swimming pool? maybe my filter is connected to the drainage which is connected to the ocean, and some seaweed seeds got into the pool, do seaweeds have seeds? who knows. Anyway back to the main topic, i find the irony that catholic church says its the one true church yet it is so corrupt and wrong that anyone who has read even a small section of the bible could realise this fact. Well, its now 1:30 in the morning and im doing an assesment task, but realy im not, im gaining a deeper insight into the human condition. Having said that i am not sure that we are human at all....

Shapeshifting Reptilian Humanoids

John Rhodes was the first person to seriously investigate and publicly present claims of reptilian-humanoid sightings and/or contact. He established the Reptoids.com Research Center in 1997 to collect, review and present evidence of reptoid activity. He has also appeared on television and radio shows being interviewed about his discoveries and the science supporting the theory of Reptoids.

Rhodes contends that the majority of the reptilian humanoids are descendants of the dinosaurs and are biological byproducts of Earth evolution. He also states that human attention has been intentionally misdirected away from the underworld toward deep space, so the subject of underground Earth dwelling Reptoids and lost ancient civilizations can remain secret.

A subterranean Nazi-friendly super race is sometimes associated with accounts of reptilian humanoids, and also with the telekinetic super race depicted in Vril: The Power of the Coming Race.

According to an interview with David Icke, Christine Fitzgerald, a confidante of Diana, Princess of Wales, claims that Diana told her that the Royal Family were Reptilian aliens, and that they could shapeshift. David Icke and others have claimed that U.S. President George W. Bush and his family are part of this same bloodline.

Others who share the negative viewpoint of reptilian humanoids include Cathy O'Brien, a woman who claims to be a victim of CIA MKULTRA mind-control. O'Brien says in her book "The Trance-formation of America" (with Mark Phillips) that she witnessed George Bush Sr. physically shapeshift into a Reptilian alien being. She rationalized this as potentially being a holographic illusion as part of her mind control programming.

Arizona Wilder reported similar sightings of prominent politicians shape-shifting into reptilian beings during Illuminati blood rituals.

i sat at an obscure table on the year 12s last day. he came up through the bushes with a shoe held tightly in his manly hand and whacked it on the innocent but not naive table. behind him, a young girl followed. her elbows had been worn and her knees were pokey. she had teeth that were untouched by braces. i noticed she was lopsided. it took me, for what seemed like an hour to figure out she was missing one shoe.

it was her shoe.

he sat down for hours, with the girl clinging by his side, though i could see that his feet weren't pointing to her, they were pointing to me... so when i had finished my cooking exam later on that fruitilicious friday, i left the end results in his locker. he enjoyed those sticky buns and went on a wild goose chase to find my ten digits.

true story.

Re: Completely Random

Posted by dougydarkangel - 2007/02/17 07:01

There once was a young lad named Dougy, he was a very silly person, he would change opinions, stances on various issues, and even occasionally, bra size. The existence of absence of reality was important to Dougy, and his search for this idea (and a new bra and panties ) lead him to a small club in Melbourne. Where he saw a band playing their hit song called "There is something living inside me (and his name is Frederico Nicci)" and from that moment on, he had an epiphany, he just knew what his purpose in life was. It was to lead a group of African farmers down the main street of New York, to the 3rd newspaper vendor on the east side of the street, and buy the new york times, roll it up in rubber bands and throw it onto the "tonight, tonight" set. (a side note, the song "tonight, tonight" was actually written originally by panic! At the disco, billy corgan developed a time machine and stole the idea of the song from them).

This is the second paragraph, and is an analytical analysis of the first paragraph, you can find the footnotes and a side order of chicken nuggets in Frederico Nicci's novel "the new way to discover healthier alternatives to rat poison".

The opening line of this epic saga of mystery, intrigue and crusty toad excrements tells us a lot about the main character (which is in fact me, yet he is speaking in third person, and only two people in the whole world know why). This line which Dougy just mentioned is as follows, well its not really following this, its more just written after, its not like the quote Dougy is about to say is actually following the words, because following something usually means you have some sort of mental intention to follow something, and Dougy doesn't believe that simple computer based text has this ability. Actually in light of recent events and undergoings, Dougy will change his name to "I", incase he forgets that he was required to write in third person, it will void any responsibility and the reduction of marks due to this mistake.

What is the best part of a second do you think? The first few split seconds, were one finds ones self contemplating the beginning, and what that entails? Possibly the middle few split seconds? Were you are still fresh with energy, yet don't have the same enthusiasm as you did in the first few split seconds? Then of course, one must progress onto the final few split seconds, which can be a very difficult undertaking, it becomes much more difficult as the work load increases, and the pressure of having a better social life increase also, so you are always at odds with what to do, what to accomplish, and what to eat for desert.

Can anyone read binary? Or, translated for people that speak binary 101100010110010100110101, hang on, that was a fairly pointless translation wasn't it, anyone who could read binary, would have generally been able to speak English anyway, so they could have just read the first bit, and anyone wanting to cheat could just read the first bit, say they can read the second bit, yet they are LYING

Oh what a sad life some people lead, they only know how to make money, they don't know how to love, live, create, extract or enjoy. Money will be gone when you die, wether you believe in something after that, for the purpose of this argument is irrelevant. Even irrelevance is irrelevant when it comes to the loss of everything. Once I was CLOSE TO HOME, yet far away, I was sitting on my porch after waving goodbye to my friends who I love very much and I just though, wow, I much prefer these people to my friends at school, they are so narcissistic. I simply cant stand to be around them, but for these guys, I would die just to make one hour of their life a little easier. I would live the rest of l's life inside their love. For in fact, who wouldn't be the one they love?

At this point in the journey, I feels closer than he ever did to his friends, his partners, his lovers, and as a result he changed his name back to Dougy. In an effort to become closer to his friends he decided to marry one, and employ the others as garden gnomes, but which one to marry? Maybe to make the decision easier he should simply make them all garden gnomes. Maybe Dougy should do what he always has done and run away and join a travelling sequence of algebraic equations on their trip around the world. Yes, thank you world its been good. I only has one final thing to say

FUCK INACTION
FUCK APATHY
FUCK POP MUSIC

Welcome to my world.

that's very random...

we have to wait for believe's essay, but you have a very good chance of winning. once believe submits his essay, I will begin a new topic with a poll, and whoever has the most votes will be crowned with the title of "completely random" good work.

A lesson in FUNK!

You may be wondering what that man said down the street, it sounded like he was yelling profanity, didn't it? No! He yelled "Funkadelic," which is one of the many forms of the word "funk." Funk can describe many different things, smells, dancing routines (those are usually "funky"), hair dues (also usually "funky"), and well, just about anything. "What does funk mean?" you ask? Funk can mean "strange," "cool," "favorable," "unfavorable," or just plain "interesting!" Now of course there were two opposites on that list, how can the meaning be told apart? The context the word "funk" is used in! Now, for an example, if someone were to be wearing a tie die shirt and their hair was dyed green, and you said "hey, that's funky!" in a pleased tone, this would mean that you were complimenting this person's appearance! If you were to say "ewww, that's some funky shit!" in a negative tone, aside from being flipped off by the person said to, this would mean that you were criticizing this person's appearance. So, now onto derrivatives. There are many derrivatives of "funk!" Some examples: Funkadelic, funkaliscious, funktastic, funky... etc. Pretty much, any word can be merged with funk. Even a word as strange and sparsly used as "antiquing" can be merged with funk. This would form funktiquing. Now remember, don't be a monotoned bastard when using funk. Use it loudly, and use it with the tone you need to to express yourself with your emotions.
Thank you.

*THIS HAS BEEN A LESSON BY YOUR MOM.*

Re: Completely Random

Posted by Believe - 2007/02/19 05:49

Sorry to keep you all waiting...I was working all weekend.

Without further ado...

Here is my completely random essay!
(and it's 100% TRUE)

Chapter 1: It all started...

It all started with a big bang right? All of it, Jell-o Pudding, Turtle Wax, The Crash Test Dummies, Bazooka Joe? Well if thats the case where do we all fit in? I mean McDonald's says 5 minutes in the drive thru and you should have your order, Dominoes says an hour and you should have your pizza, while the doctor says 9 months and you should have your kid but is anything at all guaranteed? I remember once in High School, it was the week of Homecoming and the captain of the football team guaranteed the school a victory at the pep rally just before the big game - then we lost by 37 points! And who really cares who wins a stupid football game right? Screw the Superbowl and Superbowl commercials! I think the entire league should be changed. From now on whatever your mascot is, that's what should be on the field. If the Lions play the Bears - there should be real lions and bears on the field ripping each other apart!!! I'd pay to see that!!!

Chapter 2: Things I'd pay to See

I'd also pay to see Donald Trump in a death match with Rosie Odonell. Of course at first I would have to support the Don but I think after a while I would just end up thinking to myself "Why am I cheering for this rich old bastard?" Much like earlier today I thought "Why is SamC cheering for Dougy?"

Chapter 3: Why is SamC cheering for dougy?

Why does he deserve good luck? Does that mean I deserve bad luck? What has dougy ever done for yourmom3000? Did he walk your dog for free one day? Did he tell your mom how nice her perfume smelled after planting roses in her garden and painting her toenails? Man - it sucks when people are against you and they don't even know you. I feel like the opening act at the Pumpkins first show back. Everyone is so ready to see the pumpkins that they dont even care if I am the most amazing thing since Go-gurt...and in in fact my entire essay is but a necessary precursor on Sir Dougy's road to victory. But hey i can live with being a necessary precursor...as long as i'm necessary -

Chapter 4: What I can't live with

What I can't live with are the Carlos Mencia's and the shapeshifting Reptilian Humanoids that have infiltrated our society. A friend of mine told me that on his last trip to the dentist he was given an anesthetic prior to having his work done. Mid-way through the procedure he says he awoke from the deep sleep and when he was able to focus his eyes on the dentist he was horrified. He said the man standing over him had the face of a lizard!!! Of course I had already informed him of David Icke's writings and the Reptilian Humanoid phenomona so I was the first one he called after this bizarre incident...What more could I say besides "I told u so" and "The tea was splendid!"

Chapter 5: The Tea Was Splendid

The tea was splendid that afternoon, we took a short carriage ride down in to town for buckwheat and grain. Gus brought his old sheep-hound with us. Gus had named the dog buckshot because he once shot the dog square in the rear-end with a Tech-9 semi automatic while hunting squirrels in the rainforest. Now the poor old dog just drug his two back legs behind him where ever he went.

Crippled for life, sadly he would never have sex or catch another squirrel again. (Save the Rainforest)

Chapter 6: The First Time I had Sex

It all happened way too fast.

Chapter 7: Changing the Subject

Changing the subject, isn't "Lost" just the new "Gilligan's Island?" Sorry, If you are too young to know Gilligan's Island this may be over your head, but I will say this, if you love "Lost" - you should check out "Gilligan's Island" It's way funnier, the chicks are way hotter and there's no fat guy. And speaking of the fat guy...I mean really, if you are stranded on a desert island with no food, building huts, and forging for fire wood - you'd think a guy would lose a few pounds right? So why the heck is the fat guy still fat? If you ask me - that guy is a walking floatation device. They could just toss him in the water and everyone can ride him to safety, END OF SHOW.

Chapter 8: -But of Course They Can't End the Show

-But of course they can't end the show, ever wonder why they make shows like "Lost" or "Gilligan's Island", shows that never have a final resolution or climax. Its just constant suspense to keep you thinking that the characters are close to being saved so that you keep watching. In the end you find out they don't get off the island this time - but tune in next week and they'll try again! Let me just save you the trouble...they are not getting off the island next week and neither are you! Ted Turner's not letting them off the island because as long as they stay on the island - you'll stay on the couch and he'll keep getting rich. You think Ted Turner has time to watch all the crap T.V. he programs? HELL NO - he's at the bank cashing checks, travelling the world and having real experiences with real people. Heck - one day he may even be off on one of his many excursions and get himself stranded on a desert island. Meanwhile you're stranded on your couch watching "Lost: Ted Turner Edition!" Hey, I'm no better - I was stuck to the couch, as a youngster myself, I didn't think T.V. sucked at all...

Chapter 9: Things I Used to Think Sucked

I used to think Star Wars sucked, but it doesn't.
I used to think Zwan sucked, but it doesn't.
I used to think school sucked, but it doesn't.
I used to think being alone sucked, but it doesn't.
I used to think being sober sucked, but it doesn't.
I used to think Criss Angel sucked, but he DOES!!!

Chapter 10: Why Criss Angel Sucks

Is there any comparison between David Blaine and Criss Angel? Not in my book. David Blaine is the real thing. I dont care what anyone says - if you have to perform your tricks with the aid of T.V. cameras and video editing...u are a poser. Sure Criss Angel may dress the part (Trent Raznor on Speed) but David Blaine can fly - I believe that in my heart, and the heart never lies...

Chapter 11: The Heart

Yes my friends, the heart is a sacred thing, cuz when it stops your dead. This fact was proven years ago in a movie called "Indiana Jones and The Temple of Doom" In the movie, Indiana Jones goes to India where he witnesses a priest conducting a ritual in which he rips a man's still beating heart from his chest and tosses the body into a pit of flaming lava. Well, since the heart was still beating the man was still concious when he hit the flames...of course. When i see this scene is makes me think about how fleeting human life is, which leads us to chapter 9

Chapter 12: A Requiem for 9 Lives

If a cat gets 9 lives why do people only get one. Why the hell are cats so important? Is there a shortage of cats in the world? not enough to go around? Is there some angel in cat heaven that says to the cats "Look kitty, I know you were just hit by a car but we need u back down on the ground ASAP!" (I use the terms Angel and Heaven loosely here but I want to be clear on the fact that I do not speak the cat language nor do I consider myself an expert on the cat afterlife...the only thing i do know for sure is that all things must die, including this essay)

Chapter 13: Death of an Essay

In conclusion, Madd Pandal Rule, Testosterone 4 Life, SP is Sacred, Love is Suicide (Suicide is Love), Sex is Stupid, Crack Kills, Breast Feed (Drink more milk), Cancel your Credit Cards, FIX your FACE!, Touch yourself sometimes, Eat the fat, Crap more, Piss less, NEVER fail a piss test, Owen Wilson, Catch the monkey, Watch the sunrise, Listen closely, Look both ways, Bite your nails, Burn your hair, Work your angle, Abuse your friends, Eat at Joe's, Don't ask for directions, I had no idea she was a hooker your honor, Dig a tunnel, and always share your candy.

I want to give a shout out to my little cousins. May your crackhead of a mother get help (for your sake), and may your father stop taking people's money and telling them he will fix their cars only to leave with the money and never return.

Okay, imagine this:

You're sitting on a chair in an empty room, and then all of a sudden this giant foot-long penis appears out of thin air, and starts floating towards your face. Somehow, you're stuck to your chair, and you can't move. The penis is getting closer and closer to your face, and you think "Aw man, I'm gonna have to suck on this thing". Sure enough, when the penis is close enough, it pushes itself in the parting between your lips, and starts thrusting in your mouth, making you gag. After about ten minutes, it stops, you breath a sigh of relief, and think "Whew, thank goodness that's all over".

But then, the penis slaps you on the side of your face, causing you to fall off your chair. You land with your face on the ground and your backside in the air. When you are at your most vulnerable position, the penis punctures a hole through your pants and easily lodges itself inside your anus, where it stays for two to ten hours, or more.

That is what using a Mac is like.
