Posted by ApathysEcstasy - 2008/06/24 18:48

I was just looking over some old photographs and am just perplexed
how could someone go from this to that?

<http://www.apathysecstasy.com/1.JPG>

and then the resemblance is just uncanny.

so sad, so very sad.

i don't think Darcy should have got plastic surgery. her lips are too big- she looked fine before.

Must of been some crazy kind of make up, because I think she doesn't even look like the same person.

i didn't know she had surgery either.
all i know is that she used to be kindof attractive and then almost instantly turned into that creepy thing on the right

Woooh! Can You say cautionary tales kids?

I guess the bottom photo scared the eyebrows and eyelashes right off of D'Arcy in the second photo! :0

I always thought D'arcy was so beautiful. I loved her style.
I loved how she dressed. In Vieuphoria she looked so cool, no makeup, just so awesome!
I loved how she looked playing bass. I miss D'arcy, you never heard her voice drowning out Billy's like big mouth Paz used to do.
In her arising photos, I liked how she took Marilyn Manson's cowboy hat and wore it.
But only Billy knows what she really was like, all we know is her persona. It was sad hearing Billy calling her a 'mean spirited drug addict'. But he should know. And that is why I say its sad.

Drugs will do some crazy shit to a person....

I've always thought that D'arcy looked different in every single picture ever taken of her....even before the creepy pics like that one. It was mysterious and kind of sexy at the beginning, but then it just got weird.

i was thinking of pics like this when i posted that she looked elegant

<http://www.my-mistake.net/infinitepics/band/band113.jpg>

<http://www.my-mistake.net/infinitepics/band/band449.jpg>

aka, the pics when she was less grunge and was actually dressed up nice i was not thinking of see through shirts and yes, put your shirt back on epitome- its icky when "old folks" go without one ;)

Oh yes, they just add the the ensamble. But I do have to say...and only as a side. That you may want to think twice before going out in the sparkly tap shorts and beanie with the twirly thing on top. That might be a smidge too much...just a smidge though.

I see your point, though I still get ethreal and otherworldy more than elegant in these images. But that is just me and I'm really nothing in the whole scheme of things.

Why do all the posts these days spiral into a nudist colony? Haha.

I thought D'Arcy's choice to go braless with the see-through tops was ... bold, let's call it. I just remember being at the Pumpkins show in 1998 with my best friend and my mom, great seats, so we of course could see EVERYTHING. And here's mum yelling, "PUT A BRA ON, D'ARCY!" Hehehe. I think she might have even heard her. :)

Old my eye...check you out! The bum of a 20 year old...not that I looked or anything. Well maybe I just snuck a tiny peak I didn't see anything though, really.

*laugh* Piero!

On D'arcy though she really was able to morph with her looks...kind of cool.
